

PRESS RELEASE
13 April 2016

Airbus Group re-appoints the AUSY Group as a referenced supplier

Airbus Group re-appointed the AUSY Group as a referenced E2S supplier for engineering services for the next 3 years.

This award proves AUSY's ability to meet demanding requirements of a transnational group that expect leading-edge and multidisciplinary engineering skills in the defence and aerospace sectors. Airbus Group's referenced supplier list has decreased over the last 8 years and few European groups are among them.

As a referenced supplier, AUSY delivers high value-added engineering solutions to all Divisions of Airbus Group, including Airbus, Airbus Helicopters and Airbus Defence and Space.

AUSY brings support to major clients in the aeronautics, space and defence sectors all over the world. The Group also provides engineering expertise in the design and analysis of metallic and composite structures, embedded software and systems, fuel and landing gear systems, cabin interiors, and cockpits.

AUSY employs more than 4,500 experts, designers, engineers and project managers over more than 50 locations around the world, including Germany, France, the UK, India, the US...

AUSY and its partner Atkins owe their success to 3 key factors:

- bases in all major aerospace and defence centres around the world,
- complementary capability and experience, ranging from fuselage, wing, cockpit, and empennage, through to embedded software, IT and digital transformation,
- a panel of highly-skilled aerospace specialists.

This award is a testament to AUSY's ability to create and manage solid long-term alliances.
